Students
The International School of Lyon

Drafted 11/07/18
Edited 09/07/19

Privacy notice for students

Under new European Union (EU) General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) you have the right to be informed how The International School of Lyon (ISL) uses any personal data we hold about you. In compliance with this law all individuals whose data we process will be provided with a privacy notice.

Under the terms laid down by GDPR, ISL is a “data controller” as we determine the purpose of and means by which your data is processed.

Our GDPR lead is Ms D. Philip (See contact details below)

The personal data we hold

We hold some data about you to make sure we can give you the best possible education, to look after your well-being and get you the support you need to succeed.

We also collect information from other sources, former schools, exam bodies and other governmental organisations.

This information includes:

- Your contact details
- Your test results
- Your attendance record
- Your characteristics (special educational needs, gender)
- Any medical conditions
- Details of behaviour issues or exclusions
- Photographs
- CCTV images

We may also collect, store and use Special Content Personal Data (SCPD). This contains more sensitive information about you. Where appropriate this may include information about:

- Health, including any medical conditions, and sickness records.
- Information about special educational needs
- Information about your social situation

Why we use this data

We use this data to help ISL run the school, including to:

- Get in touch with you and your parents or guardians when we need to
- Track your academic progress and get extra support for you or your teachers

- Track the performance of ISL
- Look after your well-being

Our Legal Basis for using this data

We only collect data GDPR allows us to. We will use your information where:

- We need to comply with the law
- It is our duty in the public interest e.g. give you and education

Sometimes, we may also use your personal data where:

- Your caregivers have given us permission to use it in a certain way
- We need to protect your interests or the interests of others.

If your parent or guardian have given us authorization to use your personal data, you or your parent or guardian may withdraw this at any time. When we ask for permission, we will also make it clear how this permission can be withdrawn.

Collecting this information

How we store this data

Your personal data is stored on site in secure locations around the school, including password protected, restricted access servers. Some data is held on 3rd party, secure, encrypted, ISL dedicated GDPR compliant website.

We keep personal data about you while you are at this school and for legal purposes, we will hold this data after you have left. All data we hold has a retention schedule applied and is regularly reviewed, archived or deleted.

Data Sharing

We do not share personal information about you with anyone outside the school with permission from you or your parents or guardians unless the law or our policies permit it.

Where it is legally required, or necessary under data protection law, we may share personal about you with:

- Your parent or guardian
- Examining bodies
- Our regulator (IBO)
- Suppliers and service providers - so they can provide services we have contracted them for
- Financial organisations
- Regional and national government organisations
- Our auditors

- Health authorities
- Health and social welfare organisations
- Security organisations
- Police forces, courts, tribunals
- Professional advisors and consultants

Your Rights

How to access personal information about you

As a “data subject” you or your parent or guardian may make an application to the school to see the data we hold about you and obtain an explanation of how we use it. We will review each demand on a case by case basis depending on whether you properly understand your rights and what they mean.

If we hold information about you, we will:

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding it, and how long we are keeping it for
- Explain how we got it, if not from you or your guardian Tell you who it has been shared with, or who it will be shared with
- Let you know if we are using the data to make any automated decisions (decisions being made by a computer or machine, rather than a person)
- Give you a copy of the information

You may ask us to send your personal information to another organisation electronically in certain circumstances.

If you want to make a request please contact our GDPR lead.

Your rights over this data

You have rights over how your data is used and kept safe, including the right to:

- Say that you don’t want it to be used if this would cause you, or is causing harm or distress
- Stop it being used to send you marketing materials
- Say that you don’t want it used to make automated decisions
- Have it corrected, deleted or destroyed if it is wrong, or restrict our use of it.
- Claim compensation if the data protection rules are broken and it harms you in some way

Complaints

We take any complaints about our collection and use of personal data very seriously.

If you think that our collection or use of personal information is unfair, misleading or inappropriate, or have any other concerns about our data processing, please raise this issue with us in the first instance.
